

In order to ensure continuity of instruction during this time, the Early Childhood Programs Department of Leon County Schools has compiled online resources and printed materials for families to support continued early learning at home.

At-Home Learning Activities and Resources

Keep your children learning at home with our parent-led activities that support learning in emergent writing, emergent literacy, and mathematics for children birth to five years old.

E-Learning Resources

Extend your child's at-home learning with web-based instructional resources aimed at developing early math and literacy skills

WFSU Educational Programming

WFSU will be broadcasting educational programming during the hours of 6:00a.m. and 5:00p.m. Tune in to WFSU, Channel 00 to enhance your child's at-home learning.

Additional Support for Pre-K ESE

Additional resources are available to assist with developmentally appropriate instructional continuity.

Social Emotional Resources

Tips to promote your child's social and emotional development during times of change.

Supporting Health & Hand Washing

Practice healthy habits daily with your children to reinforce healthy behaviors.