2. Embedded instructional strategies

2a. Independent functioning and self-care skills are incorporated in daily routines.

Quality Indicators

- Adequate time is allowed for children to participate as independently as possible. Children who need assistance are provided prompts that lead to independence.
- Self-care skills are incorporated into daily routines and children participate in activities such as being "snack helper" or other classroom jobs. Family members are included in planning for self-care routines.
- Children clean up and help organize/put away materials in the classroom, lunchroom, and settings throughout the campus.

Questions to ask

- ✓ Is ample time allowed during the daily schedule for children to perform self-care skills?
- ✓ Are children encouraged and taught to help with cleaning up and other classroom jobs?
- Are there visuals to support children and encourage independence through the steps of self-care tasks?
- ✓ Is assistance (with a plan for fading prompts) provided for children who need assistance?

Supports, Accommodations, Adaptations

Universal Supports → Teach children the steps of self-care routines and allow time in the daily schedule for them to practice.

- → Place visuals showing step-by-step processes for routines.
- → Collaborate with family members to develop plans for generalization of skills across various settings.
- Targeted/Specialized Supports
 → Provide direct instruction using verbal and model directions for steps shown in visuals.
 - → Enhance instruction and practice through use of classroom books and toys in centers.
 - → Coordinate with families to provide consistency in teaching self-care skills.
 - → Employ appropriate system of prompting in order to develop independence.

Intensive Interventions

- → Consult and collaborate with therapists and service providers to develop plans to support children with physical and/or cognitive needs.
- → Ensure that children with significant needs for support are given ways to participate as much as possible in their self-care routines.
